

ADA LOUISA PHIPPEN
MAHONEY

Isaac Phippen and Ada Stewart were the parents of Ada Louisa Phippen Mahoney. Ada Louisa Phippen was born September 2, 1842. She was born at Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois. She married Jeremiah Mahoney May 17, 1863.

Before I was very old the Mormon people began to have trouble and I was one year and ten months old when the prophet and his brother were martyred. Times got worse, but they still kept working on the temple and finished it. Many got their blessings, so got paid for their hardships.

In 1845, times were very bad in Nauvoo. They had to stand guard around the city. My brother was on guard and was shot accidentally and died a few hours later. It was a time of sorrow for many.

In 1846 we had to leave our homes with hundreds of others. We had two wagons for our family and my brother's family, so we left everything and crossed the Mississippi River, and came to Winter Quarters, where we stayed until the summer of 1848, when we crossed the Missouri River into Iowa, where we lived until 1852. While in Iowa my father farmed, raising hundreds of bushels of wheat, corn and vegetables and other grains. We were there the winter after the Battalion boys went. In the summer of 1847, father planted a lot of foodstuffs, which helped us through the winter. Ada Louisa and her brother went to school in Iowa.

On June 23, 1852, we were ready to start for Salt Lake. So again my father and mother left everything except what they could put in two wagons. They left their farm and never got one cent for it, also their houses and everything that was in them, only a chair or two; not even a table, but we had plenty of clothes, but we had no regrets for what we left. We had quite a time getting started, as some of the others decided that they did not want to go to Utah, but with much persuasion we got to the Missouri River. There were hundreds of wagons camped there, waiting to cross the river. There was much sickness at this time, but soon all was well. As we traveled we gathered lots of buffalo chips. We had plenty of Indian scares. We saw thousands of buffalo; we also scraped and dried meat.

We always stopped Sundays and held services. Almost every night we danced and every Thursday night we held meetings and sang the songs of Zion. When we arrived at Independence Rock we had a wedding. A lot of young folks went through Devils Gate; I wanted to go, but mother would not let me.

When we reached the three crossings of Sweetwater the company was divided and my father was put in captain. Here we made better time, and there was no sickness. The weather was quite cold, and we had a little snow on the South Pass. We landed in Salt Lake City on September 27, 1852. We were three months on the road. As we came into Salt Lake we thought it the most beautiful city we had ever seen. We camped a few days with some friends in the First Ward. Father soon bought a house and lot in the Sixteenth Ward and we moved into it. We had nothing but a stove we brought with us (no table, bedsteads or chairs). But we were thankful that we were all well and in the land of promise.

When I was 16 I married a polygamist by the name of Orvil Hale. I had one daughter, Esther. Later I was married to Jeremiah Mahoney, on May 17, 1863.

My husband was in an accident and died from the effects of this on April 5, 1868. We had two children, Jeremiah Worthington and Elmer Clarence. After his death I married Henry Walker.

Grandmother died December 29, 1933, in Salt Lake City, Utah, and was buried in Heber City Cemetery.

JEREMIAH W. MAHONEY

Jeremiah Worthington Mahoney, known to his many friends as "Jerry" or "Worth," was born in Coalville, Utah, May 25, 1864, to Louisa Phippen and Jeremiah Mahoney.

BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

He had one brother, Elmer. His father died when he was four years old. When he was six his family moved to Wanship and two years later to Heber. Since that time until his death he resided in Wasatch County. At one time they lived about 11½ miles south of the present location of Jordanelle. The spring he was 10 he went with his stepfather, Henry Walker, and his brother, Jim Walker, to obtain timber from the place where the New Park mine is now located. The snow was 2½ to 4 feet deep, but the three of them got out enough timber for the frames of three barns. That same year he went with his stepfather and uncles with a load of four to Park City. He recalled that at that time (1874) there were but few buildings there, Park City being largely a tent city.

When he was about 12, the family moved to a ranch on the Provo River about 2½ miles east of Hailstone. At the age of 14 he went to work at the Will Moulton ranch, now known as Lee's Ranch. From that time on he was self-supporting. He helped to construct the road from Soapstone to Provo River and was the first to drive a load of lumber over the road with a yoke of cattle. He helped to get the timber down the river and later haul it to Park City.

In 1884 he married Sarah E. Giles. They had four children: Verna M. Mahoney (Hicken), W. LeRoy Mahoney, Sarah Mabel Mahoney Burgener, and one child who died in infancy. His wife, Sarah, died in 1901. During this period he worked in the old Ontario Drain Tunnel from the Judge mine in Park City. On January 20, 1904, he married Lottie Malinda Hicken in the Salt Lake Temple. To this union was born seven children: Vestus Addison, Madge Mahoney Brierley, Alta Mahoney Tippetts, Denton Mahoney, Errol Mahoney, LaMar (died an infant) and Cleofa M. Denbow.

From 1910-1912 he filled a mission for the LDS Church to the Northwestern States. After returning home he became interested in the sheep and cattle business and continued in this line until he retired.

He served a term as city councilman and was always very interested in the welfare of the community.

At the age of 89 he still ran the bull rake at haying time. He was very active and alert till the day of his death, on February 14, 1958, at the age of 93. He was a High Priest in the Church.

Lottie Malinda Hicken Mahoney (second wife) was born at Heber, Utah, on September 20, 1879, daughter of Addison and Elizabeth Moulton Hicken. As a young girl she learned dressmaking and practiced it for some time. She is most active in the Church. She served as secretary-treasurer of Heber Third Ward Relief Society and is still very active at 79, never missing a meeting, Sacrament, Sunday School, Mutual or Relief Society. An active Relief Society teacher over 40 years, she lives alone and does all her own work and entertains her family on occasion.

First wife:

Sarah Elizabeth Giles Mahoney, daughter of Mary Ann Moulton and Frederick Giles, was born December 21, 1864, and died at 37 on December 21, 1901. Wasatch County was her home all her life. As a young woman she taught school at Heber City. She later lived at the Moulton Ranch, owned by her uncle, William Moulton. It was here she met J. W. Mahoney and they were later married.

After her marriage she lived at the Walker Ranch on Provo River about four years, then moved to Elkhorn, now known as Keetley, where she lived the next 10 years. She then returned to Heber City, where she lived until her death.

She was a true Latter-day Saint, working when her health would permit in all the organizations of the Church. For some time, when she lived at Keetley, she was at the head of the Sunday School, which was held in the schoolhouse, a short distance from our home.

She was also an accomplished seamstress, and did beautiful work in crocheting, knitting and painting.
